Just how much weight his testimony may be entitled to, and the amount of confidence which hi employment in the expecity of clerk is calculated to inspire in the public mind, as to the sincerity and efficiency of these professed reformers and economists, we will not pretend to say. The record of one or no other sore-headed witnesses who have een discharged by Governor Jewell for their bibulous and indolent habits, but who, has since been discovered, should have long ago been punished for graver offenses, will be printed in a few day, also for the information of the committee.

Tun Democratic Liouse yesterday took another step in its policy of repudiation. The February coupons of the District bonds, for which the faith of the Government is pledged, have now been under protest nearly a month. The joint resolution permitting the Commissioners to give their official checks for these Government coupons, which are registered in the United States Treasury, was vesterday, on | home this year will be familiar with finmotion of a Repudiation, Soft-money emocrat, postponed for another week. The negrous hereabouts were too smort for him - that is, there were many more intelligent than he who would no give way for Li- advancement. He then affected to read law for a short period with S. D. Williamson, esq., but soon planted Lis restless feet over at Arlington and wa elected sheriff of Alexandria county. H: shertly found himself totally incompetent for the complicated duties of the position and negotiated himself out by resignation, when the court filled the vacancy with a Detectrat. Ruffin then migrated to Dinwiddie, and set his pins for the Legislature. That county being strongly Republican, and Ruffin being gifted with rather a -weet tongue among people of his own class and culture, soon became the favorite and was elected. But, alas ' it was through great | policy impulse to harfold and worn-out slantribulation. He sent us a letter or two a week, explaining his troubles and asking us to defend him, but they were not fit to print without rewriting, and this life is so short that we could not do it. But now he sends us a letter explaining how they turned him out of the Legislature because he could not keep correct cash accounts. This is rough on Ruffin, but we hold it to be one of the first qualifications of a good Republican legislator to be a good counter and mathematician. Ituffin must learn to count. There are quite a number of Demceratic members of the same Legislature who have found discrepancies in their cash accounts. If all of them are promptly expelled we shall not complain about the expulsion of R. D. Ruffin. But we insist upon equality before the law among law-neskers. THE ANACONDA RAILROAD.

This is a queer name for a queer thing, but is full of significance. The anaconda is a monster of the serpent kind, that crushes before it devours its victims. So our Anaconda railroad, with its head somewhere in New York or Boston on the Atlantic coast, stretches its huge body across the continent by the Union and Central Pacific, thence down by the Southern Pacific to lower California, and then turning East, would sport its tail somewhere in the wate s of the Gulf.

Agencies are at work, with millions of money to aid them, for consummating the most powerful, as well as the most tyrannical and oppressive, monopoly in the world. It is modestly proposed to extend the Southern Pacific of California first south and then east towards the Gulf, not for the purpose of opposing transcontinental transit and transportation at reasonable rates, but to create a perpetual monopoly, that shall grind the commerce and indus tries of the country for years and years to come.

The way to fight the devil is with fire. and we must fight railroads with rails. If a single company monopolizes the trade of a district, and can make such charges as they please, what chance is there for justice and moderation:

The grand purpose of the Texas and Pacific railroad is to construct a competing line between the Mississippi and the Pacific coast, that shall compel the other line to offer reasonable terms. Without such a line the whole country is left in the hands of a combination that will tax it to the amount of ten millions a year in ex-actions upon its trade and industries. The West and South have suffered long to calmiy and quietly and not do it. But if and sorely for lack of friendly legislation, bu' let them not be crushed to death in the ol is of this monster anaconda. Let them have a line of railway free from physical climatic obstructions, a line that will be always open to traffic at rates as reasonable as in any other part of the United States Give them this, and then let the monopolists build as many railroads as they please befitting the occasion and the time, it is that the American public should in this Centennial year take hold of whatever than that one should be abandoned to stray charity and the other, unfinished, peer into the windows of the National Capitol, a shameless beggar, asking continually for alms. Such spectacles as these are a disgrace to our reputation, and nothing less than a compendium of our broken promises. It is American patriotism gone to this matter. Perhaps it is unfortunate that the monument was ever begun. Perhaps, in this utilitarian age, a building or a light house, or some other form of practi cal benevolence, could have been raised in enduring marble to the honored name of the "Father of his Country," and it would have been better. Many use this as an argument against the prosecution of the scheme and as an excuse for not giving towards that end. But the monument is already begun: it is more than half finished. One more "long pull, strong pull and a pull altogether," and it will be done, and stand for ages a grand witness to our honor.

Let it remain as it is and it stands an enduring reproach. Questions of what might have been best are not in place. Although nations have always found this an effective way of celebrating the deeds of their heroes, and those who come to see us in our ished and perfected monuments to virtue or to wisdom or to military skill, as embodled in their great characters, yet the question honor the dead. Shall we come away with fading in our hands, the song of victory ing so determined, pour in their offerings by voluntary subscriptions, and demand national enactment to remove the national disgrace and convert it into a lasting honor.

Strange Licciosures-Shall Treason Triumph! WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25, 1976. To the Editor of the National Republican: Sin: The letter of the United States commis eloner for the Southern district of Georgia, M. E. C. Wade, printed in your issue of the 12th instant, is a document of more than ordinary in-terest to the loyal people of this country, and especially important now that so many reconstructed rebels are legislating in favor of the lost cause" by doing all in their power to "lost cause" by doing all in their power to cripple, by Congressional enactments, the efficiency of the army and navy, and to undermine our financial credit and national honor at home and abroad. Mr. Wade's letter would make a capital Republican campaign paper, and will, I hope, be used for that purpose. My attention was called to this subject and to the identical points made by Mr. Wade, some weeks before the publication of his communication, by a native and loyal Virginian, now a resident of this city, who served the Union and its flag faithfully during the late rebellion, and who thoroughly knows the real temper and purposes of the leading spirits, in Congress and out, who are manipulating mischief and feeling their way cauthously and securely in the Union and with its flag to a new treason against both. Look at their programme: Gush and bosh, kisses and cursee, shaking of hands; "all hall, loyal brother!" and smiting him under the fitth rib: crippling the civil and military services by cutting down necessary appropriations for both, to make people restless and disaffected and to make the Federal army and navy weak and worthless, the Administration and party now in power unpopular, and, so far as possible, blasting the fair fame and credit of the country with the capitalists of the world her and in Europe.

But my time is too limited now to elaborate cripple, by Congressional enactments, the eff country with the capitalists of the world here and in Europe.

But my time is too limited now to elaborate this important subject, as I hope to hereafter from the infermation and notes at my command. In the mean season the Democrats and Confederates in and out of Congress will bear watching. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." God save the Union and its flag! Mason R. P.
